

UNAM ART MUSEUMS

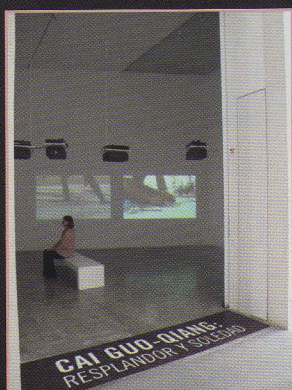

The UNAM's cultural wealth and role in promoting every possible kind of art are undisputable. A brief overview of some of its museums and their exhibits is ample proof. Whether by supporting contemporary art by young people or hosting huge exhibits by great masters, or opening the door to collective projects, playful or dangerous creations, intervention of enormous structures, or even proposals that might not have found a place elsewhere, our university's museums demonstrate an irrefutable vocation for creativity and freedom of expression, and are permanently open to artists from all over the world.
